The International Public Sector Accounting Standards Board (IPSASB) issues accounting standards and other guidance relating to the financial reporting needs of national, regional and local governments, governmental agencies, and the constituencies they serve. The International Public Sector Accounting Standards (IPSASs) and Recommended Practice Guidelines (RPGs) issued by the IPSASB form a comprehensive set of authoritative international financial reporting standards and guidance for governments and other public sector entities. IPSASs exist to improve the quality of general purpose financial reporting by public sector entities, leading to better informed assessments of resource allocation decisions made by governments and other agencies, thereby increasing transparency and accountability.

Many IPSASs are largely consistent with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs), which are issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB). The IPSASB adapts IFRS to a public sector context when appropriate. In undertaking that process, the IPSASB attempts, wherever possible, to maintain the accounting treatment and original text of the IFRS unless there is a significant public sector issue which warrants a departure. Other standards have been developed to meet issues specific to the public sector, such as non-exchange transactions.

Some countries have adopted IPSAS accruals accounting. Others have adopted the Cash Basis IPSAS as a first step towards accruals accounting. The European Commission (EC), the International Federation of Accountants (IFAC), and the Organization for Economic Co-Operation and Development (OECD) all apply IPSASs. The United Nations (including all their agencies) have nearly completed transition to IPSASs.

The fee for this unique event includes:

- ◆ 8 days of formal tuition by some of our most senior instructors
- ◆ Full set of course materials (including case studies, illustrations and examples) - hard and soft copies
- ◆ An iPad Mini which you can use for research during and after the course
- ◆ A local sightseeing tour
- ◆ Lunch and refreshments on every teaching day
- ◆ Farewell dinner and class photographs.

This eight-day course provides a comprehensive review of the requirements for preparing financial statements and disclosures under accrual basis IPSASs. The program fully reflects the latest standards including those that become mandatory in 2018 and 2019.

IPSAS requirements will be explained in clear, simple language and illustrated with model financial statements and real-world examples. Application of the various standards is illustrated through the use of short case studies. Delegates also receive an overview of the IPSASB's current Work Plan, including Exposure Drafts and Consultation Papers.

In addition to a review of current accrual basis IPSAS, our specialist instructors will also give guidance on transitioning to the accrual IPSAS and on the specifics of IPSAS implementation under IPSAS 33 First-time Adoption.

This program answers questions such as:

- ◆ What are the current requirements for presentation of accrual basis IPSAS financial statements and related disclosures?
- ◆ Where can technical and practical guidance on IPSAS be found?
- ◆ How have IPSASs changed recently, and what changes can be expected going forward?

Instructor(s)

Alan Mayo

Alan Mayo is a highly experienced instructor in the field of international financial reporting, with a particular professional interest in IFRS for oil and gas companies and also in IPSAS for the public sector. He is a UK chartered accountant with over 20 years of experience as an auditor and consultant with PricewaterhouseCoopers in both London and Paris. A founding member of the PwC Client Training business in London, Alan delivered courses on financial reporting and financial management to a wide range of PwC clients. Alan regularly instructs courses on international oil and gas accounting, and he has delivered in-house programmes for such organisations as ENI, Petronas, Kogas, Saudi Aramco, Nigerian Liquefied Natural Gas and the Ugandan Revenue Authority. He previously worked as an auditor on the privatisation of British Gas, and taught financial reporting and financial controllership programmes for Shell. Alan also managed a team within PwC that provided training and change management support to UK public sector agencies as they transitioned from cash to accruals based accounting, including the Foreign and Commonwealth Office and the Ministry of Defence. His current work includes supporting UK local authorities and not for profits in developing the financial management skills of their staff, and he has worked extensively with the UN and other international organisations in their transition to IPSAS. An independent training consultant since 2001, Alan has been a senior instructor with IASeminars since 2004.

Saket Modi

Saket Modi is a London-based financial trainer and consultant with over 15 years of professional experience. He specialises in delivering courses on advanced accounting, financial reporting and financial analysis topics, particularly with regards to International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), International Public Sector Accounting Standards (IPSAS), financial instruments and corporate finance. Saket has spent considerable time working, advising and training on complex IFRS matters - especially in relation to recognition and measurement of financial instruments. He has gained valuable experience working with both FTSE listed companies and also with Big 4 accounting firms. He has designed and facilitated workshops for banks and other financial institutions and also for corporates in the UK, Europe, Africa, Middle East and Asia, and was invited by the International Auditing and Assurance Standards Board® (IAASB®) to present a paper on IFRS 9 Financial Instruments at their board meeting in New York. Saket is a member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India, has completed the IFRS certificate course offered by the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales (ICAEW) and also holds the Diploma in IPSAS from the Chartered Institute of Public Finance and Accountancy (CIPFA). As well as being a qualified accountant, Saket is also a CFA® charterholder.

Nick Auer

Nick Auer is an experienced training consultant specialising in Finance and Financial Reporting. A UK chartered accountant with over 16 years' experience, Nick's clients include a variety of organisations in both the public and private sectors. In the public sector, Nick specialises in delivering training on financial reporting matters (IFRS and IPSAS), finance training for non-finance managers, and courses on value for money and efficiency, budget management, procurement and contract management. He also has consulting experience on finance transformation projects (e.g. conversion to accruals accounting; conversion from UK GAAP to IFRS etc.). His clients have included the Ministry of Defence, the National Health Service, the Home Office, Foreign and Commonwealth Office, the UK Border Agency, local government etc. Nick also has significant experience in teaching financial reporting and other financial topics to the private sector.
